

SEAMEO SEPS RESEARCH GRANTS

Passionate about sustainability? Let your research make a difference!

GENERAL THEME: SEP AND SUSTAINABILITY

The SEAMEO SEPS Research Grants support theoretical and applied research that explores the role of Sufficiency Economy Philosophy (SEP) in addressing Southeast Asia's sustainable development challenges. This grant calls for proposals that examine SEP's potential to foster resilience, balanced progress, self-reliance, and regional development across various sectors.

OBJECTIVES

- Apply SEP, SDGs and related themes through research
- Help resolve real-life problems or academic questions through collaborative research
- Build a community of scholars on SEP in SEAMEO Member Countries

BENEFITS

- Research funding of USD 4,000 for meaningful studies on SEP and sustainable development
- Opportunities to present findings at SEAMEO SEPS and other events
- Access to a network of practitioners and scholars dedicated to SEP and sustainability

RESEARCH AREAS

- SEP for Sustainability
- SEP and the SDGs
- Sustainable Living
- SEP-related Values and Frameworks
- Intercultural Understanding
- Other SEP-related Issues

WHO CAN APPLY

Academic and community-based researchers from SEAMEO Member Countries, aged 18-55

IMPORTANT DATES

SUPPORTED BY

SEAMEO Regional Centre for Sufficiency Economy Philosophy for Sustainability (SEAMEO SEPS) Bangkok, Thailand

QUESTIONS?

Email us at secretariat@seameoseps.org

www.seameoseps.org/activities/researchGrants

MORE INFORMATION

